Los Espigones Viewpoint

English edition

Updated on 10 September 2026

The Mirador de Los Espigones viewpoint is on the western slope of the municipality, between La Fajana and Los Quemados, on the road that descends towards Las Indias. It is a viewpoint with a picnic area overlooking the hillside that drops down to the sea, with views of the vineyards of Los Quemados, the district of Las Indias and the south-west coast, and, on clear days, of the island of El Hierro.

It is a stop on the municipality's Viewpoints Route, halfway between the Mirador de Las Indias, higher up, and the Mirador de Los Jablitos, above the vineyards of Llanos Negros. It is reached by car, with room to park beside the road.
