

Fuencaliente de La Palma

Bike routes

English edition

Updated on 10 September 2026

Fuencaliente is a paradise for cycling, whether for short outings in natural surroundings or for visiting its small villages along comfortable cycling paths. It is also ideal for longer routes that will demand preparation and effort. Its climate, its privileged natural environment and the existing network of connections make it an ideal place to enjoy this way of travelling and discovering. Cycling is, after all, one of the most pleasant activities there is, combining sport, tourism and contact with nature. The paths seem made to be travelled by bicycle, at just the right speed and rhythm: neither so slow that you cannot make headway nor so fast that you cannot enjoy the surroundings, the sounds and the light all around you.
