Viewpoints over volcanoes, vineyards, villages and coast, from the summit to the sea. On the LP-2, the El Charco Viewpoint looks out over the Tamasca Protected Landscape, and the Las Indias Viewpoint, renovated in 2026 with a décima and a sculpture, over the south-west coast and El Hierro. Above Los Canarios, two rest areas face the San Antonio volcano. On the west side, Los Espigones, Los Jablitos over the vineyards of Llanos Negros and Las Calderetitas over the La Zamora beaches. On the coast, the viewpoints of La Zamora, Puntalarga and El Faro, the last one at the southern tip of the island, between the two lighthouses and the salt pans. Several have plaques of the Ruta de la Décima. You can pick them by area; visibility changes with the weather.
